CHAPTER NO 1
INTRODUCTION

ORGANIZATION OF THESIS

1.1 Thesis

The thesis is a documented report presenting the author's research and findings, submitted by students to fulfill the requirements of the academic degree or professional qualification. The thesis consists of three main parts: i) Initial Pages, ii) Text, and iii) References. Details are given below.

1.2 Initial Pages

Every thesis should have the following initial pages in the given order.

Cover Page	Required
Inner Title Page	Required
Approval Sheet	Required
Student's Declaration	Required
Dedication	Optional
Acknowledgement	Optional
Abstract	Required
Table of Contents	Required
List of Tables	Required
List of Figures	Required
List of Abbreviations	Required
List of Appendices	Optional

1.2.1 Cover Page

The color and text on the cover page of the thesis should be according to the Rules and Regulations of the University.

1.2.2 Inner Title Page

This page should contain the following information in the given order. Title of Thesis, Award Statement, Student's Full Name, Registration Number, Faculty/Department Name of the University, and Month and Year of Submission.

1.2.3 Approval Sheet

This page should provide the details of the panel of examiners (Names, Affiliations, etc.)

1.2.4 Student's Declaration

This page should contain the student's declaration on the originality of the thesis and should be signed by the student.

1.2.5 Dedication (Optional)

This page contains the dedication of the thesis, which should be brief and in a single paragraph.

1.2.6 Acknowledgment (Optional)

The student may acknowledge the assistance of different people or organizations in producing their thesis, and it should not be more than a single page.

1.2.7 Abstract

The abstract should be brief, a single paragraph, and not more than 300 words. It should not be the summary of the thesis; rather, it should contain information regarding the following:

Field of Study (Introduction), Problem Statement, Research Methodology Adopted, Research Process (Proposed Solution), Results and Performance Evaluation, and Conclusion.

1.2.8 Table of Contents

Table of Contents should start on a new page and include all chapters, sections, sub-sections, and sub-sub-sections.

1.2.9 List of Tables

The list of Tables should start on a new page, and all tables used in the thesis should be listed on this page along with page numbers.

1.2.11 List of Figures

The list of Figures should start on a new page, and all figures used in the thesis should be listed on this page along with page numbers.

1.2.12 List of Abbreviations

The list of Abbreviations should start on a new page, and all abbreviations used in a thesis should be listed on this page without page numbers.

1.2.13 List of Appendices (Optional)

The list of Appendices should start on a new page, and all appendices (if any) used in a thesis should be listed on this page along with page numbers.

1.3 Text

The text is divided into different chapters, which should be presented in the following order. Every new chapter must start on a new page, and each chapter should be divided into sections. Every Section should be given a title and numbered.

Chapter-1: Introduction

Chapter 2: Literature Review

Chapter-3: Methodology

Chapter-4: Proposed Solution

Chapter-5: Testing

Chapter-6: Conclusion and future work

1.3.1 Introduction

Chapter 1 is the introduction of the thesis, which varies from thesis to thesis, but it should be organized into the following Section and may have some more sections or sub-sections.

Overview, Background and Motivation, Problem Statement, Research Questions, Research Goal and Objectives, Research Contribution, Research Scope, and Organization of Thesis

1.3.2 Literature Review

Chapter 2 discusses the related literature, which should be comprehensive and up-to-date. The literature review should support the problem statement.

1.3.3 Methodology

Chapter 3 details the methodology, including Problem Investigation (Analysis) and Formulation, Design, and Development.

1.3.4 Proposed Solution

Students will explain the developed system in detail in this chapter.

1.3.5 Testing

This chapter will contain different test cases for the system.

1.3.6 Conclusion

Finally, the last chapter, i.e., the Conclusion, concludes the thesis and provides further directions.

1.4 References

References are detailed descriptions of the resources from which the information is obtained. All references must be listed at the end of the thesis. The list of References should be according to IEEE format and must be ordered according to the number system where each reference is numbered. The reference cited first in the text is given the number 1, and so on.

1.5 Appendix (Optional)

The appendix is the optional portion of the thesis and is supplementary material to the text of the thesis. It should be placed after the references and may be divided into different portions.

1.6 Figures in Text

All figures in the text should be numbered, and a caption should be placed at the bottom of the Figure. Figures are numbered concerning the chapter, e.g., Figure 1.2 is the 2nd Figure in the 1st chapter. The caption must be centered in a single line; otherwise, it should be aligned to the left. The Figure must be placed once it is cited for the first time in the text.

1.7 Tables in Text

All tables in the text should be numbered, and a caption should be placed at the top of the Table. Tables are numbered concerning the chapter, e.g., Table 1.2 is the 2nd Table in the 1st chapter. The caption must be centered in a single line; otherwise, it should be aligned to the left. A Table must be placed once it is cited for the first time in the text.

CHAPTER NO 2
LITERATURE REVIEW

SIZE AND FORMAT

2.1 Paper Quality and Size

Good quality paper (minimum 80gms) size A4 (210 by 297 mm) should be used.

2.2 Margins

All pages must have the same margins. The margin of 4 cm (1.58 inches) from the left side is for binding purposes, while margins of 2.5 cm (0.98 inches) from the other three sides should be set.

2.3 Page Numbering

Each page of the thesis is numbered and counted. The page number should be printed at the top right corner, 1.25 cm from the top edge and 2.5 cm from the right edge. The initial pages starting from the title page must be numbered using Roman numeric, i.e., I, ii, iii, etc. In contrast, text, references, and appendix (if any) should be numbered using Arabic numeric, i.e., 1, 2, 3, etc. The title page should be counted as 'i', but the page number should not be printed.

2.4 Chapters and Sections

All chapters and their Section must be given a title and numbered using Arabic numeric, i.e., Chapter 1, Chapter 2, and so on. The sections should be arranged in a structured manner and should not be more than four levels i.e.

- | | |
|---------|---|
| 1 | First Level (Title of the Chapter) |
| 1.1 | Second Level (Title of the Section) |
| 1.1.1 | Third Level (Title of the Sub-Section) |
| 1.1.1.1 | Fourth Level (Title of the Sub-Sub-Section) |

The same font, font size, and line spacing must be used as a text for chapters and their sections. Sub-section beyond the fourth level must be numbered using Roman numeric or characters.

2.5 Spacing and Format

- Font type Time New Roman with font size 12 or bigger should be used.
- One and a half (1.5) line spacing should be used.
- The spacing between the top margin and the chapter number, the chapter number and its title, and between the chapter title and the first line of the text should be three (3) line spacing.
- The chapter number and title should be in bold, bold, and centered.
- The number and title of all levels of sections should be bold and aligned with the left margin.
- The spacing between the last line of the text and the title of the Section and sub-section should be three (3) line spacing.

- The spacing between the last line of the text and the title of the sub-sub-section or title beyond the fourth level should be one and a half (1.5) line spacing.
- The spacing between the title of all levels of sections and the first line of the text should be one and a half (1.5) line spacing.
- The spacing between two paragraphs should be one and a half (1.5) line spacing.
- The first line of each paragraph should be indented by 1.27 cm (0.5 inches) from the left margin.
- A new paragraph should not start on the last line of the page.
- The title of all levels should not be on the last line of the page.
- The spacing between the text and the Figure or TableTable should be one and a half (1.5) line spacing.
- The spacing between two consecutive tables or figures should be one and a half (1.5) line spacing.
- The spacing after a full stop (.) should be two (2) characters spacing.
- The spacing after a comma (,) should be one (1) character spacing.

CHAPTER NO 3

METHODOLOGY

CHAPTER NO 4
PROPOSED SOLUTION

This chapter explains the implantation details of the project. It shows the front-end layout and explains its major components. This chapter also discusses the software components' purpose, usage, characteristics. The following sections explain the software using a snapshot of the system's front end. Every Figure has its description attached to it.

CHAPTER NO 5
TESTING

Chapter No 6

CONCLUSION AND FUTURE WORK

This chapter presents the Conclusion of the report. It summarized the projects' achievements, implications, and advantages. The chapter also shows the directions for future enhancements.
